

Abstract

SPACE BATTLE BOARD GAME

A board game playable by two or four persons or two teams of persons utilizing a square game board with each player being assigned a plurality of ships along with a mother ship. The board is divided into diagonal moving spaces and diagonal nonmoving spaces. The ships and mother ship are a color matched set, with four sets of different colors, with each color set matching moving space indicia printed on the game board. The object of the game is to be the first to move one's mother ship from a beginning edge of the game board to an opposing edge on move spaces located on the board. Difficulty levels are provided by changing and adding move options available to the players' ships and mother ship depending on ship location and the desired level of play. The game is also easily adaptable to electronic play and use on the world wide web.
